

Oscar Shorts Ticket Winners

(Via Oscar Docs survey drawings)

CINCYWORLDCINEMA.ORG
(859) 957-FILM

Congratulations to the elite few who predicted the short documentary Oscar winner: Girl in the River: The Price of Forgiveness. From votes cast at the February 20-21 Oscar Docs screenings, Chau and Last Day of Freedom tied for first place, Spectre of Shoah took third, Girl in the River was fourth with Body Team 12 a distant fifth.

The disparity in rankings between the Saturday and Sunday audiences was noteworthy, perhaps because the viewing order was different each day. Kentuckians took the Saturday honors and Buckeyes prevailed on Sunday.

The winners were drawn from the correct entries submitted for each of four screenings. Voting breakouts are at the bottom of this page.

AND THE WINNERS ARE...

drawn from the total correct picks for each screening

Saturday 4:00 and 7:00 Screenings:

Matt Connolly, Fort Thomas

Lauren Miklos, Hebron

Sunday 4:00 and 7:00 Screenings:

Jill Tibbles, Union Township

Melissa Ridgley, Cincinnati

Each person will receive a complimentary pair of tickets for both programs in the Oscar Shorts & More screenings March 12 – 16 at the Carnegie.

Breakout by day with totals for all four screenings

	Saturday February 20		Sunday February 21		Total Both Days
1	Last Day of Freedom	43%	Chau	55%	Last Day of Freedom	32%
2	Chau	21%	Spectre of Shoah	20%	Chau	32%
3	Girl in the River	21%	Last Day of Freedom	16%	Spectre of Shoah	18%
4	Spectre of Shoah	13%	Body Team 12	6%	Girl in the River	13%
5	Body Team 12	2%	Girl in the River	3%	Body Team 12	5%